GUIDANCE NOTES FOR THE COMPLETION OF A WITNESS TESTIMONY

Who can give a witness testimony?

Anyone technically competent in the work described who saw the candidate do it — a supervisor, a senior technician or a client representative. The witness does not need to be an assessor.

What should the testimony say?

What task was carried out, where and when it happened, which equipment and procedures were used, and how the candidate performed. Describe what you saw rather than what you expect.

How is it used?

The candidate presents the testimony to an assessor as evidence against the competency standard. The assessor decides whether it is sufficient, and may ask for more.
